

Writer's Group

This creative writer's group gathers weekly for two hours from December until April. The group was started by two published authors in 2003. We meet on Friday mornings to share, learn, or just listen for ideas.

Some of us have been published; others are in the process, working on their genealogy, or writing just for the fun of it. Both owners and renters are welcome to join us.